

NEW TSG SUNDAY SCHOOL SNACK POLICY

During the summer of 2019, a snack survey was sent out to all school families. This survey grew out of issues around the long-standing system of parents signing up to bring snacks for the whole class a few times a year. Some parents felt overloaded, and many times due to forgetfulness one or more classes ended up with no snack at all.

Within the survey, the most popular option among parents who responded was for an entirely new snack system for Sundays: 'Every child brings their own snacks'. In accordance, the school will try out this new system for the coming school year, and next summer we will send out another survey to see how well it's working.

Please note -- we still have a no peanut policy for the safety of some of our temple family, and also a no popcorn policy at the request of our pre-school tenant.

If you'd like your child to have a snack during Sunday School, please remember to pack one!

Thank you,
